

FOR WEEK OF MAY 1st - 7th

ARIES

You may be feeling majorly weighed down by needy partners early in the week. They are probably just jealous and threatened by all your sexy seductiveness. You are best off escaping their co-dependence by engulfing yourself in your work. The New Moon on Tuesday in your income sector is incredibly powerful and can bring in some serious cash. Your magnetism is at an all-time high, too, so you will have no problem making friends and influencing people, especially those higher-ups who will be entranced by your effortless abilities, and compensate you accordingly. If you want a raise, it may not hurt to ask.

TAURUS

Somehow you manage to sparkle and shine, even though the constrictions of your daily life are far, far afield from your inner-most dreams. During the early part of the week, you may wonder how your life became such a matter of chores and routine, when inside you are a volcano of imagination. You manage to put on a brave face to the world, and get a powerful existential boost at the New Moon on Tuesday, when your faith in the potentials of the world can get renewed. Somehow all is alright in your world, even if you do feel completely hemmed in.

GEMINI

You are a social dynamo this week, which could put a damper on your love life, as amorous interests are more interested in hanging out one-on-one, than being just another face in your rather large crowd. If your current sweetie is just one big downer, Tuesday's New Moon offers the chance to start a secret, dangerous, and very passionate liaison, that could offer you all you want and more. You may even feel like you have found your soul mate. If single, opportunities to meet a new love abound in your social life, so get out and party.

CANCER

You better get that nose to the grindstone because your home and family obligations, as well as your career, are going to take a lot of your energy this week. Instead of burning the candle at both ends, you are using a stick of dynamite, and you feel like everything could explode, or implode, at any moment. Luckily, Tuesday's New Moon gives you the ability to play as hard as you are working, and if you include your romantic partner, you can reignite your passion and break free from the bonds of duty. New friends that come into your life this week will have meaning for you well into the future.

LEO

This is your moment to hustle and shake. You have many dreams regarding travel, expansion or education at the moment; they will just stay dreams if you don't get some money on hand in order to transform them into reality. You can do just that this week, with a powerful New Moon in your career sector sending powerful vibes to Pluto in your daily work sector. Seeds you plant now will bear incredibly fruit over the next year, and help you fund your life's goals. You are best in a leadership role, and you can establish your power and performance if you have the courage to make it happen.

VIRGO

Money issues are soaking up a lot of your energy and making you feel both panicky and depressed. Whatever you do, don't rely on credit this week or you may end up crushed by a tsunami of debt. Your desire to take some risks and break out and spend is high, so don't buy any more than your income will allow, and that may not be much. Luckily, you are also up for fun and romance, and love can go far to renewing your faith in life. Relationships, new and old, will feel karmic, fated and be your spiritual compass for the year ahead.

LIBRA

Unpredictability in your love life may be giving you the blues. Your partners behaviour will be both erratic as well as high octane, and you may not be able to keep up, as your energy is a bit low. You may feel sick of tending to your partner's needs when you need some TLC yourself. Luckily, physical passion will more than make up for whatever you are lacking in emotional support. You can deeply bond with your partner, or even a new paramour, under the sheets. The physical emphasis will also help you turn off the ticking in your brain. If you live with your sweetie, spend some evenings in cuddling and rekindling the flame that brought you together.

SCORPIO

If you want to take a relationship to the next level or make a commitment, this is the time to do it. The New Moon in your relationship sector is trining Pluto in your communications house, so any declarations of love could go far to setting the tone of your love life for the year to come. If you are in a relationship, talk things out this week in order to solidify your bond. Don't allow all the duties in your daily life take your eyes off the prize of true love, or you could lose a once in a year opportunity.

SAGITTARIUS

You are feeling love big time, but you may start having slight doubts, as your romantic life may be isolating you from socializing with the world at large. Your partner is sucking up all your time, heart, soul and mind – which you have been more than willing to give – but still the seeds of doubt are starting to take hold. Work-wise things couldn't be better; it's time to roll up your sleeves and take on the heavy lifting – the harder you work, the more you will be compensated. You can make quite the mark now, and over the course of the next year your income may increase due to the changes you implement this week.

CAPRICORN

Get out there and there and go on the hunt for love. You will have an almost Svengali-like pull on the opposite (or same, if that's your thing) sex this week due to your high levels of personal power and charisma. The New Moon on Tuesday gives you a chance to completely reboot your romantic life, so make sure to spend this week cooing and swooning. If you are in a relationship, you can make everything better and be the rock of love and stability for your partner. Domestic issues may suck up a lot of your time, but as you love your family you will take this as more of a challenge than a drain.

AQUARIUS

If you have been neglecting your home and family life, this is the week when you can make the changes needed to get fresh starts that will take you to a much more stable and satisfying path. It is necessary for you to listen to your inner-voice, which is incredibly powerful, and trust your instincts; if you have the courage to follow your dreams they may come true. You are surrounded this week by exciting and stimulating people, but yet, your overall worldview remains constricted and traditional. It is time you start taking a lesson from the people around you and live a little.

PISCES

Your mind is preoccupied with making money to the point of obsession, yet nothing you can do can fill the coffers fast enough. Years of living beyond your means, bad investments, and credit issues may make it feel like your savings are merely a drop of water into the sea of IOUs. Try to take your mind off things by socializing with friends. Your community of amigos will be a powerful support network that can really help you through this period. Conversations will be fun and meaningful, so talk things out and a new openness and candor can define your friendships that will last for the upcoming year.
